Aaron Brown is a partner in the Austin office of Reid Collins & Tsai LLP. His legal practice focuses on complex commercial litigation, including financial fraud, professional negligence, legal malpractice, fiduciary liability, and shareholder appraisal rights.

Aaron is known for his strategic and innovative solutions in pursuing fiduciary liability claims and professional negligence claims on behalf of bankruptcy trustees and hedge funds in litigation against directors and officers, law firms, banks, auditors, and recipients of fraudulent transfers. In addition, Aaron spearheads Reid Collins's foreign appraisal rights practice, where he successfully represents clients in shareholder appraisal rights disputes. He is a member of the State Bars of Texas, New York, and New Mexico. He has a proven track record of successfully navigating both high-profile and high-stakes cases.

Beyond his professional accomplishments, Aaron is active in giving back to the community. He frequently gives public talks to student organizations and other groups, mentoring and encouraging young adults to make responsible life choices. With over 60 talks to date, Aaron has established himself as a respected leader and role model.

Aaron received his J.D., with Honors, from the University of Texas School of Law in 2020 and his B.A. from St. Edward's University, where he was named the Student of the Year by the Jewish Studies Department. With his extensive experience, innovative expertise, commitment to results, and dedication to community service, Aaron is an integral member of the Reid Collins & Tsai LLP team.
